Engagement Ring Choices

An engagement ring is often the most expensive piece of jewellery you will ever purchase. We will help you with some of the decisions you will need to make.

Engagement Ring Style

- Modern
- Antique
- Traditional
- Quirky

If you are buying for your fiancée, you will need to consider her style. Will she love a very traditional diamond solitaire ring or will she be expecting an unusual or bespoke engagement ring?

Type of Stone

The most common stones found in engagement rings are diamonds, rubies, emeralds and sapphires. However, any gemstone can be used.

Perhaps, you would like your birthstone or you would like a stone in your favourite colour.

Did you know you can get pink sapphires and yellow diamonds?

Bespoke Engagement Rings

Buying a bespoke engagement ring means you get the perfect ring for you. A jewellery designer can help you design your ring using your choice of gemstones and metal.

You will create a unique ring that stands out from the crowd.
